

Global Ecotherm Standard

Convection heating oven with cross-flow ventilation

The Ecotherm Standard oven is designed for heating small to medium volumes at an affordable price. The heating technology consists of two convection heating elements, which are mounted at the sides, with integrated cross-flow fans that ensure a uniform heat distribution. The material to be pre-heated is placed onto a manually operated, roller-mounted tray. The cross-flow fan technology guarantees a trouble free and reliable heating procedure and is also suitable for tempering of the materials being used, and similar thermoforming processes.

The oven is equipped as standard with an adjustable timer including signal light, digital electronic temperature control unit and mounted on adjustable industrial machine feet with an anti-slip plate.

Global's Ecotherm Standard oven is characterized by its robust construction, its easy operation and its uniform heating of different material thicknesses, which guarantees a tension free and reliable heating procedure. The oven is also suitable for tempering and similar thermo treatments.

Product information

- ▶ Side mounted heating elements with cross-flow ventilation
- ▶ Adjustable digital electronic temperature control unit
- ▶ Preheating time approx. 2 min./mm material thickness
- ▶ Available with castor wheels
- ▶ Working temperature up to 190 °C
- ▶ Uninform heat distribution by closed heating circuit around the material
- ▶ Adjustable timer with signal light
- ▶ Electrical connection 380 V / 50 Hz / 3~
